

Dear Friends in Christ,

For years the church depended on their leaders and adults of the congregation to spread the gospel and to witness to the wanderer and those who have lost faith. As the world became busy, leaders and adults have found it very difficult to find the time to get involve in the spreading of the gospel.

Today I am congratulating the children and youths of our congregation for taking up the challenge in witnessing to their friends. This is evident every Sunday as we notice a little boy or girl without their parents and when ask, they would say, their friend invited them.

It is the good work that our children and youths are doing why we boast of a growing Sunday School and Youth Department. Their witness to their friends is based on the fact that they themselves are experiencing something great as they worship and they must share that experience.

A few Fridays ago, as I was assisting with the setting up of the music for the liturgical dance practice at the Parish Hall, I saw a little girl at the door looking in. I asked her if she was a member, she said, “No, I want to become a member but I am afraid. I encouraged her with the assistant of the Youth Coordinator and she found the courage and went in, she has not miss church from ever since. Her mother is not an Anglican but she has made it her duty to send her daughter to church to worship.

Our children will continue to use their experience in worship and their organization to reach out to the children and youths of our community. Our encouragement will assist them in their mission to witness to the parents of their new found friends..
